Lets Are Warned To Take Available Jobs

Frankfort, Nov. 21 (Special)—Warning Kentucky veterans that they are rapidly exhausting their benefits under the veterans readjustment allowance program, H. A. Babbs, executive director of the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation has renewed a recommendation that veterans take work now, while it is available, and save their jobs for a time when they may have serious need for them.

Pointing to a survey of the claim status of 21,000 veterans who have drawn unemployment benefits for ten weeks or more, the director said this showed that 20 per cent of these already have drawn benefits for 40 weeks or more. The number of veterans who have drawn benefits for 40 weeks or more is 4,416. The maximum benefit period is 52 weeks.

A total of 1,875 veterans, or 29 per cent, have drawn benefits for 30 to 39 weeks; 5,794, or 27 per cent for 20 to 29 weeks; and 5,064, or 24 per cent for 10 to 19 weeks.

Comparing readjustment allowances with earned wages, Director Babbs said that the $20 weekly allowance to veterans usually is just about half as much as the earnings of an employed veteran.

"It is true," he said, "that a considerable percentage of unemployed veterans are young men who they probably had no worthwhile employment experience before entering service."

For that reason, a veteran who elects to take a job now will benefit through building up work experience and will have opportunities to pull himself into a better-paying position.

"The veteran sitting back and drawing jobs benefits is building no work experience and, when his benefits are all exhausted, he has nothing to look forward to but no allowances, no job, no wages, no income at all and no work experience which would help him get a job."

"The pattern is one which should be immediately obvious," the director said, "a job when one is available—veterans readjustment allowances when no job can be found."

"Economic security," he concluded, "is not a matter of 52 weeks—it is a lifetime problem which can be solved only by a self-supporting job."

Farm Bureau Groups Discuss Price Futures

TO MEET IN LOUISVILLE JANUARY 8-10

Farmers, for the most part, are optimistic about prices for most farm commodities during 1947, but are hesitant about predictions for 1948, if recent actions taken by the commodity committees and the legislative committee of the Kentucky Farm Bureau are taken as an indication, says an announcement just released by the organization.

Seogun Jones, president of the Jefferson County Farm Bureau, is a member of the resolutions committee and is chairman of the commodity committee of fruits and vegetables.

Some of the most important points considered by the committees including the difficult situation confronting burley growers on surplus production and unsatisfactory marketing conditions, the wide variance of prices on manufactured milk, effective support prices on livestock, state funds to match Federal funds on agricultural marketing and production research, Government grading services, marketing quality eggs, rural roads and communication services.

Many county recommendations covered these same points. Most important among others was a recommendation to change the Federation's convention date so that it would precede the annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau and regular Legislative sessions.

With the exception of tobacco, each commodity committee on livestock, burley, crop, poultry and fruits and vegetables, and the legislative committees during the past few days held its final pre-convention session as a part of the long process of drafting the Federation's annual program.

The recommendations of each committee are to be submitted to the resolutions committee, which meets November 25 and 26 in Louisville. This committee will be submitted to the Federation's Associated Women at their annual meeting, which is to be held January 8 in Louisville.

New Strikes Loom Old Ones Cost Billions

While union dictators are threatening to call another series of paralyzing strikes—just as the way ahead to peace-time prosperity is beginning to clear—economists and statisticians are still trying to estimate the terrific costs of the last wave strikes.

These costs run into astronomical figures. . . . Many days lost in strikes from January through September of this year approximate $9,225,000.

Losses in wages to the workers themselves during these nine months run close to $1,000,000, assuming eight-hour days at the low estimate of $1 per hour.

Losses to The Government in the personal taxes these men would have paid on their wages approximate $1,000,000.

As For The Public and the goods it has been waiting to get—strikes since the war ended, lost in strikes from January through September of this year approximate $9,225,000.

Shacklette-Dale Wedding Solemnized At Duncan Memorial

One of the most beautiful of the season's weddings was that of Captain Lucille J. Shacklette, daughter of Dr. John Rod Shacklette and Mrs. Shacklette, Jeffersontown, and Captain Lee Edwin Dale, of Fun du Lac, Wisconsin, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Dale, Mountain Grove, Mo., which was solemnized Saturday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, in Duncan Memorial Chapel. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Jesse E. Stomberger, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church, Jeffersontown.

The church was decorated with banks of palms and ferns and white chrysanthemums and was lighted throughout with white tapers in silver candelabra.

Each pew had lighted tapers supported by white chrysanthemums tied with tulle.

Before the ceremony Miss Shirley Hewitt sang "Ave Maria" and "The Lord's Prayer" by Mrs. Ruth Hall, Strathmore, who played the wedding music and the bride's sorority songs during the ceremony. Both were their robes.

The bride who entered on the arm of her father, wore the full dress uniform of the Women's Army Corps and carried a white satin prayer book on which was a single white orchid, tied with a ribbon of narrow satin ribbons.

The matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Jay Hemberger, wearing a lime green suit with brown accessories and carrying an arm bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums and tulle roses, tied with tulle satin ribbon.

Mr. Jay Hemberger was best man and the groomsmen were Mr. Albert E. Hag, of Indianapolis, and Mr. Stanley Bradley, cousin of the bride.

Following the wedding a reception was given for the newlyweds at the home of the bride's parents. The house was decorated with palms and yellow and white chrysanthemums. The bride had a centerpiece of white flowers and ferns and the large wedding cake was surrounded by cathedral candles in silver candle holders.

After the reception the happy couple left for an extended honeymoon to Mexico City and upon their return will go to Fun du Lac to make their home.

Farmers To Vote On A.A.A. Administrators

Kentucky farmers will go to the polls November 29 to elect committeemen to administer national farm programs in their communities in 1947. M. D. Royle, state Director of the Production and Marketing Administration, announced today.

In each of the State's 1400 farm communities, a committee of three local farmers and two alternates will be elected. At the same time, a delegate to the county convention will be chosen, who, with the delegates from other communities will elect a three-member County Agricultural Conservation (AAA) committee.

Any person who is participating in the 1946 Agricultural Conservation Program or any person who has a contract with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, is eligible to vote in the election.

"These did not automatically end farm problems. It only changed, and may even intensify the problems which farmers must face," he said.

"Government farm programs can help solve these problems, but the program requires good men in charge to make them successful. Farmers have the responsibility to elect those men they feel can best carry out the duties of committeemen under the national farm programs. Every eligible farmer should be sure to cast his ballot in his local election."

FRIDAY ————— NOVEMBER 22, 1946

ARE WE PAST HELPING OURSELVES?

It's a strange kind of thinking, by strange Americans, that lies behind the proposed federal public health bill. But it has been prevalent among some public officials for several years past. It is engendered by influences that are un-American. By that school of thought we are told, if not in so many words, that the proper way to meet a national problem is to appropriate a few billion dollars, create an enormous bureaucracy, and give the government unlimited power of policy and administration.

Contentions between free and dictatorial governments have brought terrible wars, depressions and other social and economic upheavals. The greatest problem now facing the peoples of the world is whether they are to have freedom or oppression. If we are to go to the point where government is to do everything for us, where we must have cradle-to-the-grave security in all of its ramifications, confessing ourselves impotent to deal with our own personal problems, we can no longer pose as leaders of a free world.

Back to the subject of medical care, wherein lies a problem, 'tis true, even though our standards in this field are the highest on earth. But the problem can, and is, being solved through public cooperation, in such public matters as control of tuberculosis and venereal disease, and by rapidly expanding voluntary insurance plans for individual protection in event of illness or accident.

The American people should certainly be able to take care of their health standards without spending four to six billion a year to regiment the doctors and socialize the practice of medicine.

Our esteem for local Postmaster John D. McDonough raised another notch the other day, when we went in his office and found him writing with one of the regular "postoffice" pens. Typically local, Mr. McDonough said, "They write fine."

The trouble with foreign politics, thinks a local sage, is that it doesn't work out according to plans of those who have nothing to do with it.

Recently we have heard a lot of people berating John L. Lewis. And we have egged some of them on in the fray. But why put all the blame on Lewis? He may be unforgivable, but he's not the first labor leader of that stripe. Fellows like him were riding in the labor saddle before present labor laws were written in the federal statutes. Lewis naturally wants to show his men that he is doing all for them that the law will permit, although many of them do not approve of the course he has taken.

Where did the expression "float a loan" come from? We have often wondered if it could have any connection with the fact that the fellow who seeks a loan is often sunk.

A friend told us the other day that he had just had his first ride in a jeep. "And how did it go?" we wanted to know. We were informed that it provides the same sort of thrill as we may be had from a ride on a lumber wagon on a freshly plowed field.

John L. Lewis recently spoke fearfully of the poor miners who were not able to work because they did not have any meat. Bad, isn't it? But what of the poor private citizen too who has no meat—or coal?

A jurisdictional strike within the labor element is not a strike to adjust wages, hours or working conditions, but a strike to settle an argument as to who is who among the rival factions in the organization. But the public must suffer loss and inconvenience just the same.

Letters to the Editor

BOUQUETS WHILE LIVING

I notice when a fellow dies, no matter what he's been, some saintly chap, or one or two.

Whose life is stained with sin. His friends forget the bitter words.

They spoke but yesterday, And now think up a multitude of pretty things to say.

Perchance when I am laid to rest, Some one will bring to light Some noble deed or kindly act, Long buried out of sight.

But if it's all the same to you, my friends, And just give me to instead The bouquets while I'm living, The knocking when I'm dead.

LESSON

By RANDOLPH LUNDQUEST, D. D. Of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, Selected by Western Newspaper Union

Lesson for November 24

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts as chosen by the Western Newspaper Union of Religious Education, used by

PAUL IN ATHENS AND CORINTH

LESSON TEXT—Acts 17:22-34; 18:1-11; 1 Corinthians 1:22-25.

MEMORIAL RELECTION—For other foundation can be made by Paul that is which is Jesus Christ—1 Corinthians 2:11.

History repeats itself, in spiritual things as well as in secular events. The experiences of Paul at Athens and Corinth are peculiarly applicable to our day, for here he encountered the very same known facts (and have apparently stopped the clock today).

The cities were not far apart in miles, and they were both pagan, but they differed widely in their cultural and commercial development.

Athens was the home of a goddess culture. Corinth was a prosperous commercial center known throughout the world for grossly licentious living.

He found them superstitiously religious, but religion does not save. They even feared lest they had begotten some god, so one altar was to the unknown God" (v. 23). This gave Paul his opportunity, for he declared the one true God—unknown to them—as the answer to their question.

The intellectual felt superior and had an idea that God needed him, a kind of snobbery which is as current in 1946 as it was in Paul's day. How effectively he disposed of that attitude appears in verses 24 and 25. They needed God, and without him they could not draw a breath!

Moreover, the pagan intellectual then as now would swell with pride as he thought of the race and people to whom he belonged. They were superior — a master race. Paul declares God's truth that all men are of one blood, and that the nations are in his hands (v. 26).

What they had to do, and what the godless intellectuals of our day need to do, is to seek God in humble repentance and faith; then lives can become fine and noble and useful (vv. 27, 28, 32, 34).

II. Sophisticated Immorality Meets the Gospel (Acts 18:1-4).

To Corinth Paul came (evidently still alone) without friends or funds. Like all well-bred Jewish boys, he knew a trade. He was a sail maker and tent maker. Rather than have the ungodly men of Corinth hinder his preaching by the criticism that he was doing it for money, he supported himself.

The minister who is eager for rich financial return, and who is willing to accept the gifts of the ungodly, his work may prosper, has closed the door for his testimony to many who do not believe. In fact, one wonders whether he has any real testimony to give.

In this wicked city, given over to vice and fleshly pleasure, Paul made his way to the synagogue and began to preach Christ. He reasoned and persuaded and won some for the Lord as he continued with them for a year and a half (Acts 18:11).

Paul's letter to the Corinthians reveals the struggle of the believers at Corinth to maintain moral standards and spiritual warmth in his city, but it also clearly indicates that like all gospel of Christ, "the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth" (Rom. 1:16) even in the midst of sin and corruption.

III. The Gospel Meets Sin—and Victories (1 Cor. 1:22-25).

The wisdom of this world—to which Athens stood in a special way—becomes foolish in the eyes of men, as it is already in the sight of God, when it stands up against the gospel (1 Cor. 1:21).

The preaching of the cross, which looks foolish to the world (v. 23) is the wisdom and the power of God, and by it men are saved.

Whether Jew or Gentile, whether seeking wisdom or wisdom, whether "up-and-out" by way of pagan intellectualism or "down-and-out" by way of immorality—no matter what man's race, or his problem—the answer is in the gospel which we are privileged to preach, and preach, for it is the gospel of Christ the power of God and the wisdom of God to all who are called by him.

Seatonville News

By Mrs. Marvin Long

Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Jean celebrated their golden wedding at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Marvin Long, on Sunday, November 10, with open house from 3 to 6 p. m. Although it rained nearly all afternoon, about 150 friends and relatives came to congratulate the couple and with them many more happy anniversaries. Previous to, and after the celebration, Mr. and Mrs. Jean received more than 100 congratulatory messages, eleven by mail from as many states, and more than their native Kentucky. (The Jeffersonian really gets around, doesn't it?) Through this aspect the celebrants wish to express their thanks to their friends who came personally, sent messages and otherwise contributed to making this one of the happiest days of their lives which they will never forget.

Mrs. William Zech and two of her daughters from Berrien Springs and St. Joseph, Mich., were guests of the Jean and Longs from Saturday until Monday morning. They came to attend the golden celebration and the wedding of Miss Lillian Long, Mrs. Charles W. Nichols and Donald, Muskogee, Mich., came Sunday and attended the Long Klappke wedding and left early Monday for a sojourn in Florida. Mrs. Nichols is the former Lady Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cutliff and son also came from Traverse City, Mich., to attend the same wedding. Mr. Cutliff and son being usher and ringbearer, respectively.

Mrs. John W. Wells (Gladys Cochran, Middleton) and daughter, Patricia, Red Bluff, Calif., have returned to their home after visiting the Long family and other friends and relatives in Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. James Abney and family have moved to their home in Seatonville, the former Dr. Turner place, as remembered by the old-timers. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Watson, who vacated the place, have gone to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Wheeler, while they are in Florida. We miss the Watsons but welcome the Abneys to the little burg.

Judge W. W. Evans and Mrs. Evans have returned from a pleasant trip in the East.

Mr. Charles Turner is very ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Louis Ruch, Jr. His condition is very serious and most painful. He is practically starving to death as the result of a throat ailment. He is deserving and needs the prayers of Christian friends.

Mr. and Mrs. James Stout entertained some of Mrs. Stout's relatives Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bain Williams were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Stout November 17.

We were so sorry about the injury Mrs. Everett Brentlinger received upon leaving our home Sunday. But, as she so rightly put it, "We don't know what will happen when we start out from home." Look out, rabbits, on Wednesday the 20th!

KENTUCKY TROUBADOURS ON PARADE

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 22, THE KENTUCKY TROUBADOURS will match their singing talents with ten famous quartets from all sections of the United States in a "Quartet Festival" at the Memorial Auditorium, in Louisville. These ten quartets, Helm Herbert, Jack Byrne, Pat Dunleavy and Ray Grady, have made a name for themselves in the past year or two, having sung in Louisville and the surrounding communities at American Legion, Community Chest, and other local gatherings. They sing strictly on an amateur basis, but the applause and cries for "more" rate them among the best in "barbershop" harmonizing.

Quartets from Chicago, Jersey City, Kansas City, Evansville, and other cities throughout the country will vie with them along with the 90-voice male chorus of the Louisville Chapter of SPEBSQSA in entertaining the friends of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America. Two complete programs are scheduled, 2:30 and 8:30 p. m., Saturday, November 23 at the Memorial Auditorium. Seated reservations are available at Baldwin Piano Company, Third and Broadway, Louisville.

A Lesson In Conservation

Joe Marsh

We were sitting on Bill Webster's porch the other night, chatting over glass of beer—when the talk turned to forest preservation, soil erosion, and other things that affect a farming community.

Judge Cunningham speaks up: "It's all right to worry about conserving our natural resources," he says, "but there's a far bigger problem when it comes to conservation—that's preserving our moderate way of life, our sense of personal freedom, our respect for one another's rights."

From where I sit, the Judge is right. All America's great resources, our abundant natural wealth, are lost the minute we lose the right to work them as free people in a free land!

Whenever you see or hear of an encroachment on our rights—whether it's the right to free speech, or the right to vote as we see fit, or the right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer in licensed, law-abiding places ... watch out!

THE VOICE OF THE VET

By William S. Kennedy

It has been brought to your writer's attention that many of the veterans in the community are oblivious to the extent of medical services which may be rendered to veterans under V.A.'s home-town medical program.

Under existing legislation, veterans may be furnished outpatient medical or dental treatment in V.A. clinics, in private offices of physicians or dentists or dentists or in their own homes only for disabilities recognized by Veterans' Administration as incurred or aggravated in line of duty in active service.

In addition, only prescriptions for service-connected disabilities may be filled at government expense by local pharmacies under V.A.'s home-town prescription service.

The medical facilities of V.A. regional and subregional offices, clinics and hospitals under law must be utilized to the fullest extent for examination and outpatient treatment of veterans.

The best interest of both the veteran and the Government will be considered when deciding whether a veteran residing in an area where there is a V.A. field station will be referred to a V.A. clinic or to a civilian physician. Final decision rests with chief medical officers of V.A. regional offices.

Veterans may be admitted to hospitals for in-patient treatment of service connected disabilities by civilian physicians under contract to V.A. only if their condition is such as to constitute an emergency which cannot be met by a V.A. hospital because of the lack of beds or because the patient's condition prohibits travel.

Prior authorization for hospitalization and treatment in a private hospital must be obtained by letter, telephone or telegram. If, owing to the extreme emergency of the case, prior authorization is not obtained, the physician or admitting hospital should notify V.A. within 72 hours.

Fern Creek News

By Miss Maggie Johnson

Reverend Burn's subject Sunday was "Why Join the Church?" which he answered very ably. David Weber will have to stay at the hospital for some time yet. Mr. and Mrs. Robert McDowell of Simpsonville and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gerlin of Louisville visited Mrs. O. J. Seebold Sunday. She has not been so well for several days.

Mrs. Rosa Ward is with her daughter, Mrs. Clyde Peterson, and has to be in bed most of the time. Am glad she is improving. Mrs. Everett Brentlinger called at Mr. Frank Jean's at the wedding anniversary, and while there told and broke her wrist. This is the second bone she has broken in the past two years.

Mr. Bart Shroff of Illinois, who was born in Fern Creek and lived here till he was grown, died in Illinois a few days ago. The old friends are passing on.

Was very sorry to hear of Mr. Walter May's death last week. Mrs. Timplin has been in bed for nearly a week with a cold. Mr. Ennis E. Johnson visited in Lexington, Ky., over the week and. His brother, Nelson, and Miss Ruth went up and brought him back.

Really Marching Ahead

The new heading for my weeklies in The Jeffersonian is

Kentucky is on the march.

It is moving toward better things, toward a place in the sun.

After fifty years of limping behind the more progressive states our Commonwealth has thrown away its walking cane.

Yes, we are going places.

The progress made thus far by the Committee for Kentucky certainly has made a convert of me.

It is a notable achievement, because up to eleven months ago I was a chronic skeptic.

I still always felt that Kentucky had too many lazy people, family tree leakers and bankroll sinners to ever get in step with the more progressive states until a new generation was born.

I diagnosed the state's ailments in the last column.

In concrete results we have not startled the world as yet, but the ground-work for progress is done.

Getting the old rural school tax limit of 75 cents per $100 worth of assessed property, which kept our schools in poverty, raised to $1.50, was an achievement that made educational history. And it is only a first step in the Committee for Kentucky's march in behalf of better schools.

The Committee's revelations have turned the spotlight on the deplorable conditions of our welfare institutions and our public health service. It has given the public a liberal education in the matter of public roads.

And local work for improvement in all these fields is beginning to yield results.

We have a long way to go, of course, but we are on our way.

The Committee for Kentucky has made more headway in organizing the state for civic betterment than was ever made in

Our army of marchers numbers upward of four hundred thousand people. They include representative individuals and such representative state-wide organizations as:

Kentucky County Agents Association, Kentucky branch of American Association of University Women, Kentucky Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, Kentucky Association of Colored Women, Kentucky Conference of Social Welfare, Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers, Kentucky Association of Teachers, Kentucky Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, Kentucky Merchants Association, Kentucky Municipal League, Kentucky Negro Education Association, Kentucky Pharmaceutical Association, Kentucky Press Association, Kentucky State Building and Construction Trades Council, Kentucky State Federation of Labor, Kentucky State Medical Association, Kentucky State Dental Association, Kentucky State C.I.O., Kentucky Tuberculosis Association, Kentucky Vocational Association, Kentucky Workers Education Council, Kentucky Education Association, Kentucky Retail Lumber Dealers, Kentucky Congress of Colored Parents and Teachers, Kentucky School Boards Association, Kentucky Association of Deans of Women, Girl Scouts of Kentucky, Kentucky Library Association, Consumers League of Kentucky, Kentucky Drug Travelers Association.

And the existing organizations in the Committee for Kentucky probably isn't much more than half done.

And we must not overlook the support given by daily and weekly newspapers and most of the state's periodicals. The daily and weekly press demonstrated their faith in the movement for a better Kentucky when over 100 of them gave space to this column. Scores of papers are backing the Committee for Kentucky editorially.

Yes, Kentucky IS on the March!

The regular monthly meeting of the Maple Grove 4-H Club was held on Monday, November 18, 1946, at the home of Billy Stutenberger, on November 4. The meeting opened by everyone repeating the 4-H pledge. There were eighteen members present most of whom were starting this year for the first time.

Miss Wood explained the projects to the girls. They are introducing a new project for girls called "Charm Foundation." After everyone had filled out enrollment cards for 1947, officers were elected for the coming year. They were:

Emily Stutenberger, President; Margaret White, Vice-President; Billy Stutenberger, Secretary-Treasurer; Norma Kunz, Song Leader.

The program this month was entitled "Judging is a Part of Club Work," from which we gained many important facts. After a few comments by our leader the meeting was adjourned. — Billy Stutenberger, reporter.

Livestock Breeders To Meet In City Nov. 25

The Annual State-wide Meeting of the Kentucky Purebred Livestock Association will be held at the Seaboard Hotel in Louisville on Monday, November 25, announces Clifton Rodes, president of the organization. The meeting will start at 10 a.m. with a welcome address by Dr. H. L. Donovan, president of the University of Kentucky. Following this will be a business session and election of officers and directors for the coming year. Lunch will be served, compliments of the Kentucky Farmers Home Journal, and Mr. Levi P. Moore, publicity director and member of the Indiana State Fair Board will be the principal speaker. Mr. Moore is also Secretary of the Chester White Swine Record Association and President of the National Association of Swine Records.

J. O. Matlick, secretary of the Livestock Association, stated that there are now more than fifty County Purebred Livestock Associations affiliated with the state organization and that a large attendance at this annual meeting is expected. Everyone interested in the promotion of more and better livestock on Kentucky farms is urged to attend.

State Potato Goal For '47 45,100 Acres

The Kentucky share of the 2,600,000-acre national potato goal established for 1947 is 45,100 acres, G. S. Dudley, Acting State Director of the Potatoes and Marketing Administration, announced today.

This is 300 acres less than 45,400 acre potato guide recommended for 1946. The national goal is 116,000 acres below the average of 1945-1946. Dudley pointed out that if production equals the average of the past ten years the Kentucky goal should produce more than 3½ million bushels. The national goal under average conditions should produce approximately 375 million bushels of potatoes, enough for all normal needs, he said.

"While the Kentucky acreage recommended for 1946 was 45,400 acres," Dudley said, "we actually planted approximately 44,000 acres and harvested an estimated 4,444,000-bushel crop of potatoes last year. Our yield per acre was 101 bushels, 23 above the average yield during the years 1933-44. This increase was caused by good growing conditions, coupled with increased use of fertilizers and more efficient insecticides."

"The 1947 acreage goal should produce all the 1947 potatoes which Kentucky growers can market through usual channels, Dudley said. The goal for individual farms will be established by County Agricultural Conservation Committees, which will notify the growers. Only farmers who plant within their al-

Frozen Food Lockers Becoming More Popular

The number of frozen food locker plants in the United States increased 1,561 between July 1945 and July 1946, bringing the total to 6,025, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports. Eight previous annual surveys have each shown an increase, but last year's was the largest. The information compiled by K. F. Warner, the Department's extension meat specialist was from reports of State extension services and the Farm Credit Administration. The 1,561 new plants contained about 2,350,000 individual lockers and provide storage for almost 1½ million pounds for about 2,500,000 families. Approximately three-fourths of the locker patrons are farmers. In July 1946, Iowa had 655 frozen food lockers, more than any other state. Others leading in this food-storage development were: Washington, 495; Wisconsin, 473; Illinois, 450; California, 438; and Texas with 402. The remaining States have widely varying members. The survey showed many new plants are under construction.

FARMERS FEWER PRODUCTION UP

With farm population declining, American farmers this year are nevertheless producing a third more than they did before the war, with 10 percent less labor, due to the contribution that manufacturers are making in the way of modern machinery.

With increasing mechanization, according to findings of the Census of Agriculture now being completed by the U. S. Census Bureau, farm productivity per acre has gone up a fifth, producing per man up a third.

FERN CREEK MEETINGS
The Fern Creek Homemakers Club held their monthly meeting at the home of the secretary, Mrs. J. Marcus Greer, Seatonville Road, on November 13. There were eighteen members and two visitors present. After regular business, which was conducted by president Mrs. W. J. Altmeier, the Red Cross First Aid lesson was given which was enjoyed by all present. After a very delicious luncheon Mrs. Hornbeck gave instructions on making beautiful pins and ear rings; also articles from aluminum.

The November meeting was given the children at Sunshine Lodge, Jeffersontown, and Mrs. Ellingworth told of the need of clothing for these unfortunate children. So the members plan to meet at the home of Mrs. Daisy Hayes, Bardston Road, on Wednesday, November 20, at 10 a.m. to make clothes for them. The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Hornbeck, 209 Inverness December 13, at 10 a.m. the major project of this meeting being "Toots." All those in the Fern Creek community are invited to attend.

It is estimated that income from sorghum produced from about 1,500 acres of land in Jefferson County will reach about $400,000.

Three coats and seven suits were made by homemakers enrolled in the four-day tailoring course in Boyd County, given by Miss Dorothy Threlkeld, clothing specialist.

shown an increase, but last year's was the largest. The information compiled by K. F. Warner, the Department's extension meat specialist was from reports of State extension services and the Farm Credit Administration. The 1,561 new plants contained about 2,350,000 individual lockers and provide storage for almost 1½ million pounds for about 2,500,000 families. Approximately three-fourths of the locker patrons are farmers. In July 1946, Iowa had 655 frozen food lockers, more than any other state. Others leading in this food-storage development were: Washington, 495; Wisconsin, 473; Illinois, 450; California, 438; and Texas with 402. The remaining States have widely varying members. The survey showed many new plants are under construction.
